Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 20 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Generally cloudy with scattered, sometimes heavy, showers.

Today:
Generally cloudy with scattered showers, some potentially heavy and slow moving. Later today most of the showers will fade away, and some bright or sunny spells may develop across western areas, where the highest temperatures will occur. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Large amounts of cloud will linger across western areas. Further west clear periods will occur, and becoming rather chilly in rural locations, with a chance of patchy mist and fog. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
Any early patchy mist and fog will soon clear. Then dry with patchy cloud, but also long sunny periods. Light onshore winds will develop, keeping coastal areas slightly cooler. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
There will be large amounts of dry weather, apart for a chance of patchy light rain Thursday morning. Becoming breezy for Thursday and windy for Friday. Temperatures near average.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.